

Nirel Levi

Partner, 32 Ventures

Nirel Levi is a Partner at 32 Ventures and a David Rockefeller Fellow at the Partnership for New York City. Also, she's a Partner at Strategic Worldviews – a bi-partisan economic advisory platform and a team member of 100K Ventures, a Flint Michigan startup accelerator. Originally from Israel, where she served for 4 years in the Israeli military, she became the first female officer of a 50 soldier platoon, Southern division. Nirel has 8 years' experience as an entrepreneur managing a real-estate group in New York City. She also has 2 years' experience on an investment banking M&A team with a focus on TMT. Additionally, Nirel has served as a consultant at Deloitte.

Nirel graduated The City University of New York as the class valedictorian and currently serves on the Board of Trustees. Along the way she has won several accolades including awards for leadership from the Israeli Defense Forces; awards for entrepreneurship; and special recognition from the City University of New York, Lehman College.

Furthermore, Nirel is very involved in her community and participates with several non-profit organizations. Previously, she has founded "The Alumni Initiative" aiming to connect underprivileged students with mentors in the business and finance fields. Nirel loves to read nonfiction books and is an avid long-distance road cyclist.
